

UX layouts Check-in Procedure for versioning

- First user needs to select the application and form which they want to change the layouts.
- They need to get latest forms from version account and do changes while getting access code from production support team.
- After that check the difference between version account forms with local forms and Check-in their application to version control (either Forms or UX layouts)
- Developers can get latest forms from version control.
- They can view all the latest forms present in specific application in version control and view total check-in history of a specific form.
- Once if it completes, user will click on check-in button.